

FAMILY FUN~DINNER WITH A TWIST

Need some fun during your family meal? Look no further. Here are a few family fun dinner times that create memories for a lifetime! #foodfight

GIANT HAMBURGER AND TOTS

Use 2 pounds of beef and make a giant hamburger. Cook it and put it on a giant Hawaiian Roll with tater tots all around it.

RED VALENTINES DAY

On Valentine's Day (any holiday with a color), serve only food in that color. Mix it up by giving the menu items a different name than the food you will serve. For example, you serve red licorice candy and cherry tomatoes. You call it Jiggly Twists and Clown Noses!

TACO TUESDAY

Make the taco items and put them on the table like a big buffet. Let the family make their own and enjoy! #NoPlatesAllowed

SURPRISE PLATE

Take your meal (leftover and rightunders included) and put it on several plates, making each plate different. Put tinfoil and a bag around it, and let the family choose a plate. They have to eat what they end up with, but trading is allowed too.

SPAGHETTI SMORGASBORD

Put a new plastic tablecloth on the table. Make spaghetti sauce, noodles and bread. Put a big pile of noodles on the tablecloth in the middle of the table and pour sauce on it. Let the family dig in! It's a mess, but it is fun!

DIRT AND FLOWER

Get a flower pot type bowl and put chocolate pudding in it. Crush Oreos on top to make 'dirt' and put a few gummy worms in there for fun. Top it with a fake flower and you have a crazy delicious dessert for after dinner.

BACKWARDS DAY

It's simple and fun; eat dessert first or have breakfast at dinner! Or sit backwards at the table, dress backwards, and eat your whole meal backwards.

RIGHTUNDERS

In my home we called day two of the same food "leftovers." The next day was "rightunders." Use your leftovers and give it a new name and purpose.
